Explore Responsibly & Safely!

With good planning and respect for nature and wildlife, nothing stands in the way of your unforgettable winter experience. Please keep these safety and environmental tips in mind.

Thorough tour planning is essential for a safe winter adventure. Prepare your tour in advance and choose marked trails.

Stay constantly informed about weather and snow conditions, since mountain weather can change rapidly. Avoid summits, ridges, and areas requiring use of safety cables during snowfall or storms.

Don't leave any trash behind. Take everything with you and dispose of it responsibly.

Respect wildlife protection areas, avoid feeding stations, and stick to marked trails. Keep clear of tree clusters above the tree line to protect black grouse. Avoid ridgelines during dawn and dusk, where chamois, ibex, and ptarmigan are particularly active. Keep dogs on a leash. Avoid young forests and reforestation areas.

Use environmentally friendly ski and valley bus services rather than driving. You can find all schedules online at www.schladming-dachstein.at/buses. If you do need to drive, always use designated parking areas and avoid blocking access roads or paths.

Snow, Fun, and Sustainability:

9 Tips for your Winter Vacation

Can a winter vacation be sustainable? Absolutely! With just a few conscious choices, you can make your stay in Schladming-Dachstein more eco-friendly without sacrificing comfort or fun.

- 1 Arrive by train: The region has 13 train stations, including two IC stops, making it highly accessible. ÖBB's luggage service will even deliver your gear directly to your accommodations.
- 2 Ride the bus to the slopes: Make use of the free ski buses and leave your car parked back at home.
- 3 Select sustainable accommodations: Stay at certified hotels, organic farms, or "Farm Holiday" establishments. Choose businesses that value regional products and social responsibility.
- 4 Enjoy local cuisine: Make a beeline for restaurants, such as the Schladming-Dachstein culinary partners, that offer regional and seasonal dishes.
- 5 Support direct marketers: Buy directly from local vendors and discover great local delicacies in the process.
- 6 Rent your equipment: Local sports shops offer a wide range of winter sports gear for you to rent.
- 7 Ski responsibly: Stick to marked slopes and respect the environment.
- 8 Discover alternatives: It doesn't always have to be alpine skiing. Cross-country skiing, snowshoe hiking, and tobogganing are eco-friendly winter activities.
- 9 Avoid creating unnecessary waste: Stay away from single-use products, separate trash.
